Black History Month

From musical performances and interactive events to guest lecturers and discussion panels, there is a wide range of events taking place at IU that celebrates both the historical and contemporary Black experience.

Black History Month 2017

Neal-Marshall Black History Month Kick Off
We welcome the entire IU community and local residents to learn about the month’s slate of activities and see what’s new with the center.
Wednesday, February 1st
6:00pm
Neal-Marshall Black Culture Center

DJ Spooky That Subliminal Kid aka Paul Miller
Co-sponsored by the Black Film Center/Archive, Dr. Maria Hamilton Abegunde will lead a lecture and moderate conversation with DJ Spooky, a heralded and multi-faceted artist whose work has been exhibited in some of the world’s top art venues.
Friday, February 3rd
3:00pm
IU Cinema

The African American Read-In
This popular staple of Black History Month, organized by IU’s School of Education, will bring together students to read poetry, passages, and their own work.
Monday, February 6th
11:00am
Neal-Marshall Black Culture Center

I Am Not Your Negro
There will be two screenings of the film based on the uncompleted final book of the late author James Baldwin.
Thursday, February 9th
7:00pm
Friday, February 10th
9:30pm
IU Cinema

Black Family Feud: The Black Knowledge Bowl
Teams formed by student organizations will compete for prizes in a fun environment testing their knowledge of Black history and culture.
Friday, February 10th
6:00pm
Neal-Marshall Black Culture Center

Black Excellence Alumni Panel
IU alumni return to campus to share their post-graduate experiences with current students.
Wednesday, February 15th
5:30pm
Neal-Marshall Black Culture Center Bridgwaters Lounge

Black Faculty and Staff Appreciation
IU Bloomington’s black faculty and staff will be celebrated, in partnership with the Black Student Union.
Sunday, February 19th
2:00pm
Neal-Marshall Black Culture Center

Black Don’t Crack
In collaboration with the School of Public Health, a discussion about health issues in the Black community will be facilitated.
Monday, February 27th
6:00pm
Neal-Marshall Black Culture Center

Please explore our university-wide calendar of events to see all of the Black History Month activities and events Indiana University has planned throughout February at diversity.iu.edu.